

2008 Best App Ever Awards

Winners of the 2008 Best App Ever Awards Announced
Recognizing Innovation in iPhone Applications
<http://bestappever.com>

For Immediate Release

(SAN FRANCISCO, CA - January 7, 2009)

The winners of the 2008 Best App Ever Awards have now been announced in the inaugural competition honoring the best iPhone apps and games released in the iTunes App Store.

“The goal of the awards was to help publicize some applications that people may never have seen. Some of the best apps have never been featured on the iTunes front page or in an iPhone TV ad, yet they deserve recognition and publicity for the great work the developers have done.” said Jeff Scott, founder of 148Apps.com and the Best App Ever Awards.

And it looks like this worked. We heard from many developers of nominated apps that their sales went up once they were nominated. One developer, Portegno Apps, developer of nominee Cartoonize Me, saw sales go up 25% after being nominated.

Sponsored by 148Apps.com, the voting saw an amazing 98,190 votes cast in the week that voting was open. Voters cast their votes for a variety of iPhone apps in 34 different categories covering applications and games. Categories such as Most Innovative App and Best Productivity Killer were extremely popular with voters.

The list of winners and nominees is available on the site and also as a PDF here: <http://bestappever.com/2008winners.pdf> and a text file: <http://bestappever.com/2008winners.txt>

The Best App Ever Awards will return in the fall to help honor the best apps of 2009.

About BestAppEver.com

The mission of the bestappever.com site is to help recognize the best iPhone applications released to the iTunes App Store in 2008, not just the best selling. Nominees for each category were determined both by nominees submitted on the Best App Ever site and from a nomination committee. The nomination committee is comprised of industry people including bloggers and iPhone app developers. For a list of the members of the nomination committee, see bestappever.com. The name for the Best App Ever Awards comes from a friend of the site who would introduce the latest application he downloaded when showing friends as the best app ever.

About 148Apps.com

The mission of 148Apps.com is getting the word out about the very best in iPhone OS applications through editorial reviews and news. In addition to the reviews and news, 148Apps.com keeps track of what's currently popular, new, trends, and app prices changes in the iTunes App Store. Find out more at <http://www.148Apps.com>.
